THE BRIEF

To provide temporary event heating for a major book launch in events centre

THE BACKGROUND

The client contacted Cross Hire directly with a request to heat their events centre area over a weekend period. With a cold, damp weekend forecast, it was important to provide adequate heating in a timely manner.

THE SOLUTION

We supplied thermostatically-controlled indirect fired heating – delivering 200kW of heating to a network of ducting inside the events centre.

The Cross Hire team maintained an on-site presence for the entire duration of this prestigious event – ensuring first-rate temperature control services throughout.

This is another example of our complete commitment to providing effective and satisfactory solutions for all our clients.
